

MONUMENT TO MAORI CHIEF

Officers of Zion's Association Take Steps to Perpetuate His Memory.

HIRINI WHAANGA TRIBUTE.

Appeal to All Returned Elders from Australasia Brings Prompt Responses in Subscriptions.

The officers of Zion's Maori association have now taken steps for the erection of a monument in honor of the late Hirini Whaanga, the well known Maori chief, who resided in Salt Lake City for many years prior to his death.

An appeal has been made to all returned elders from Australasia and the committee feels very much encouraged by the prompt response received to date.

The contract has been let by the monument committee and the intention is to unveil the monument, with suitable ceremonies, on Decoration day.

The committee in charge desire to hear from all the elders and some of the circulars have been returned in consequence of changed addresses. All who have not already done so, are requested to report at once to the secretary, James N. Lambert, care Lambert Paper company, Salt Lake City.

The following comment from the Improvement Era was embodied in the circular sent to the elders:

"A character worthy of special notice was Hirini Whaanga, a chief of the Maories, who died at the L. D. S. hospital, on the morning of Oct. 17, 1895. He was baptized by Elder J. C. Stewart, in 1852, having been one of the first to welcome, shelter and obtain an audience for the elders of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, in the New Zealand mission. He was born on the eastern coast of New Zealand, in 1828, and was the son of Ihaka Whaanga, a descendant of a long line of chiefs of the Ngatikahungunu tribe of Maories, the strongest tribe of the island. Hirini succeeded his father as chief, and was in command when Latter-day Saint elders labored there. As the converts began to increase, he expressed the wish to come to Zion to perform temple work for his ancestors, and accordingly came to Utah, in 1884, settling first in Kanab, but a year later in Salt Lake City, where he has resided and been a worker in the temple ever since, excepting one year. It was in 1898 that he went to his native country to preach the gospel and gather genealogies. He was met by his people and accorded every honor due a king. He returned in 1899, having traveled on horseback on a tour of the island, preaching in almost every settlement and bearing a faithful testimony to the truth of the gospel. Before he came to Utah, he built a home for the entertainment of the missionaries, and many converts were made through his assistance. The members of the Church now number 4,000 natives. Zion's Maori association built him a home in Salt Lake City, as a return for his kindness, and here he resided to the end. Here also his wife, Mere Whaanga, a grandchild of his father-in-law, two nephews and a niece, still reside. Three married daughters survive him in New Zealand. The missionaries did all that could be done for him, and he died in his last days. They took charge of his funeral and, with mourning and deep esteem, on Sunday 22nd, laid his body to rest in the cemetery. When the news of his passing reached New Zealand, the thousands will celebrate the mourning service for the dead, for his people still revered him as a chief and a leader. His life affords a remarkable lesson. A king content to live in a strange land, and with strange people as a humble member of the Church of Christ. Surely Hirini Whaanga preferred the riches of an earthly life, before the wealth of this earth, and the honors of men."

DEFAULTED CONTRACTS.
Atty. Gen. Breeden Interprets Law With Regard to Forfeited Lands.

Atty.-Gen. Breeden gave last evening the following opinion in reply to a query from Secy. T. C. Callister of the state board of land commissioners, relative to default in payment of taxes on lands and rights possessed by the state board:

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication of the 3d inst, in which you submit for my official opinion this proposition: 'When a purchaser or lessee has defaulted in his contract for state lands and such contract has been forfeited and cancelled, has the state board of land commissioners the right to relieve such persons from such forfeitures?'"

"Under the law as it existed up to 1907 the state board of land commissioners had the right, if it saw fit to exercise it, to relieve the party from the default, and to refund the amount paid to said land board the amount due with the penalty, provided in the meantime the land had not been sold or leased.

"It will be noticed that under this law the state board of land commissioners is limited in its power and has the right only to relieve a party from a forfeiture when the land has not been either sold or leased subsequent to the forfeiture. But the legislature of 1907 amended this law to make it read, in so far as material here, as follows: 'Section 30, chapter 1st, session laws of 1907: Any person whose lease or contract of sale has been forfeited may, however, be relieved from such forfeiture at any time before the land has been appraised, re-appraised or has again been sold or leased.'"

"By this amended act the board is further limited in its power to relieve a person from his default or forfeiture and can now only relieve a person from a forfeiture when the land has not been appraised, re-appraised, sold or leased subsequent to the forfeiture and prior to application for relief, but if either one of these conditions exist the board is deprived of its jurisdiction to grant any relief from the forfeiture and has no power to restore to the original lessee or purchaser his former rights, and if the land is not sold it reverts back to the state and is to be treated as other state lands."

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup is a new improvement on the laxative of former years, as it does not gripe or nauseate and is pleasant to take. It is guaranteed. F. J. Hill Drug Co., "The Never Substitutes."

We are pleased to call attention to the open letter of the Elgin Dairy, in this issue and note that the recent article, appearing in local print, regarding "impure and vile butter being shipped from the east to this market" cannot in any wise be attributed to them, since they neither buy, sell nor handle eastern butter. The Elgin is a home institution, handling and dealing in home products exclusively and such is the responsibility of the Elgin Dairy, CREAMERY & SUPPLY COMPANY.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES NEEDED.

Clerk of Board of Education Busy Preparing Lists.

Clerk Judd and assistants of the board of education are busy today preparing lists of school supplies needed for next year and for which bids will be asked. Everything used in the school room, exclusive of text books, will be included in the articles scheduled, and altogether the goods will amount to two or three carloads, and the cost will be in the neighborhood of $10,000.

The supplies must be in the storeroom of the board not later than Aug. 1, and for this reason the solicitation for bids are sent out early, so that samples and accompanying prices may be considered by the proper authorities, selections made and contracts entered into in good time before delivery is necessary.

STREET RAILWAY ON NINTH.

President Bancroft Says Extension Will Be Built Coming Summer.

Ninth avenue is to have a street railway. President Bancroft of the Utah Light & Railway company, assured Messrs. F. E. McGuffin and John W. Wells yesterday afternoon, that such a line would be built next summer. It is claimed that over $200,000 worth of buildings are to be erected there shortly while several hundred thousand dollars worth more improvements will be made if a street car line is built there. The matter of a Ninth avenue line has been agitated for some time, and was as good as assured several months ago. The cars will run over the Sixth avenue line to B street and Fifth avenue, whence it will continue up to Ninth avenue, and thence east to the city cemetery.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gates entertained the members of Mrs. Gates' Bible class and a few others at their home on Center street, the evening being most enjoyably spent with music, recitations and story telling by the guests. A feature of the evening was the talking into the phonograph by a number of those present, including the personal friends of Miss Emma Lucy Gates, the records to be forwarded to her in Berlin. Records filed by herself and others with her in Germany several years ago were reproduced, with many others, being most interesting and entertaining to the listeners. Refreshments were served, a number of friends assisting.

Next Saturday Mrs. Rachel S. Grant, mother of Heber J. Grant, will attain her eighty-seventh year, and an informal reception will be held in her honor at the home of Mrs. Augusta W. Grant, 174 east South Temple street, during the afternoon, a general invitation being extended her friends to call. Mrs. Grant was for 30 years president of the Relief society of the Thirtieth ward, and has been always an active worker in all philanthropic lines.

The study section of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers met yesterday at the

B. Y. Memorial building, and Mrs. Emma Sprague, Nebraska, an interesting talk on the Book of Mormon topic outlined in the program. A feature of the meeting was the music comprising a solo by Miss Millie Williams, and a chorus made up of the class under Prof. Kirkham of the Latter-day Saints university. Next Wednesday the genealogical section meets at room 21 Memorial hall.

Six tables were played at the bridge tea given yesterday by Mrs. Frank B. Stephens, the rooms decorated with daffodils, the table in the dining room having a basket of the flowers for the centerpiece, and small vases of them at the corners. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Hosmer, Mrs. Porter, Miss Margaret Harris and Miss Alice Pearl, and the prizes went to Mrs. Sam S. Porter, Mrs. A. J. Hosmer, Mrs. Payson Smith, Mrs. W. H. McIntyre, Mrs. Charles D. Rookledge and Mrs. A. T. Vollmer.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ferry left on Wednesday for Los Angeles.

Col. and Mrs. Scott entertain at a bridge party tonight at the post.

Mrs. W. P. S. Hawk gave the third in her series of afternoon parties today.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Hale entertain at dinner this evening.

Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. Gue and Mrs. Katz are guests this afternoon at a tea given by Mrs. William Reid.

Mrs. William D. Foster entertained the Young Men's club yesterday in honor of Mrs. Frederick Sinclair, who leaves tonight for Portland, and a special prize was awarded her as a farewell souvenir. The rooms were bright with spring flowers and the prize in the bridge contest went to Mrs. Frank Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thomas have returned and are at home for the present at the Fifth East hotel.

This afternoon Miss Annabel Becker and Wilbur Price were married at the home of the bride's parents, Bishop Tingey performing the ceremony, and tonight a reception will be given at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Price.

Yesterday the executive board of the Woman's League for Public Utility was held at the home of Mrs. C. H. McMahon and plans outlined for the proposed campaign for a cleaner, moral city. There was a large attendance and every evidence that the women engaged in the important enterprise will work ceaselessly and zealously for the cause. Committees will be appointed to attend to different details of the projected reforms—civil, legal, ordinance, consumers' league, night school, detention home, isolation, hospital, pure food, vacation, school and sanitation.

Joseph McKee last evening was the recipient of a surprise party at his residence, 145 Sixth East street. The occasion was the 70th anniversary of his birthday. A most enjoyable evening resulted and elaborate refreshments were served. Among those present were Bishop Daniel McKee and wife of Granger, John H. Kidd and wife, Mrs. Ingraham and daughter Miss Chrystal Taylor, Samuel Kershaw and wife, Mr. Richards of Ogden and his daughter Mrs. Whittle, Spike & Hall.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—The advance sale of seats for "Breuster's Millions" is now going on at the box office.

Musical Festival—The sale of seats for the big Spring Musical Festival will open at Clayton's Music company's next Monday morning. The first week's sale will be for subscribers only. The festival chorus and tabernacle choir will meet tonight at the tabernacle for rehearsal. Both are getting in excellent trim and only four or five more rehearsals will be needed.

WESTERN MARKET LETTER.

Special Correspondence.

Kansas City Stock Yards, March 2.
—Cattle supplies last week amounted to $4,000 head, and prices advanced 5 to 15 cents for the week. The supply is light today, at 10,000 head, and the market is strong to 10 higher. The second consignment of Lockhart steers, from Rocky Ford, arrived today, and sold at $5.45, as compared with $5.25 for the first shipment, received here last Monday. Several trains of Colorado stock cattle are here today, selling at $4.25 to $4.50 mainly, and killing steers from Colorado, outside of the Lockhart steers, sold at $4.40 to $4.80; New Mexico and panhandle steers sold last week at $4 to $4.75, cows $3 to $3.75, some spayed heifers at $1.60. Stock steers $3.90 to $4.60, calves $4 to $6, fed bulls $3.25 to $3.90. February cattle receipts at Kansas City show a shortage of 10 per cent from February last year, and moderate receipts are anticipated through March. Total receipts of livestock for February, 1908, are as follows: Cattle, 10,000 head; sheep, 10,000 head; hogs, 10,000 head. Large receipts of hogs are responsible for the big total.

Sheep and yearlings remained about steady last week, but lambs declined 10 to 20 cents for the week. The close Friday was firm, and the moderate run of 3,500 head today is selling good, lambs about steady, mainly at $5.50 to $6.65, and yearlings and sheep 10 higher today. Monte Vista lambs brought the top today, several different consignments going at $6.65, while the Arkansas valley led in yearlings at $6.15, ewes $5, and wethers $5.40. Ft. Collins lambs sold here last week at $6.40 to 6.60, considered good prices for heavy lambs. Some of the Standard Meat & Livestock company's ewes sold at $5.35 late last week, and wethers at $5.50. With moderate receipts, the market will likely remain strong.

"Paderewski himself could not have produced more ravishing effects of tone color than Harold Bauer did," is the opinion expressed by the critics of the New York Post, referring to the pianist who is to be heard here Monday evening, March 9th, in the First Methodist Church.
